

1st Sketch

wire frame

I got the inspiration from the website that Nika suggested me.

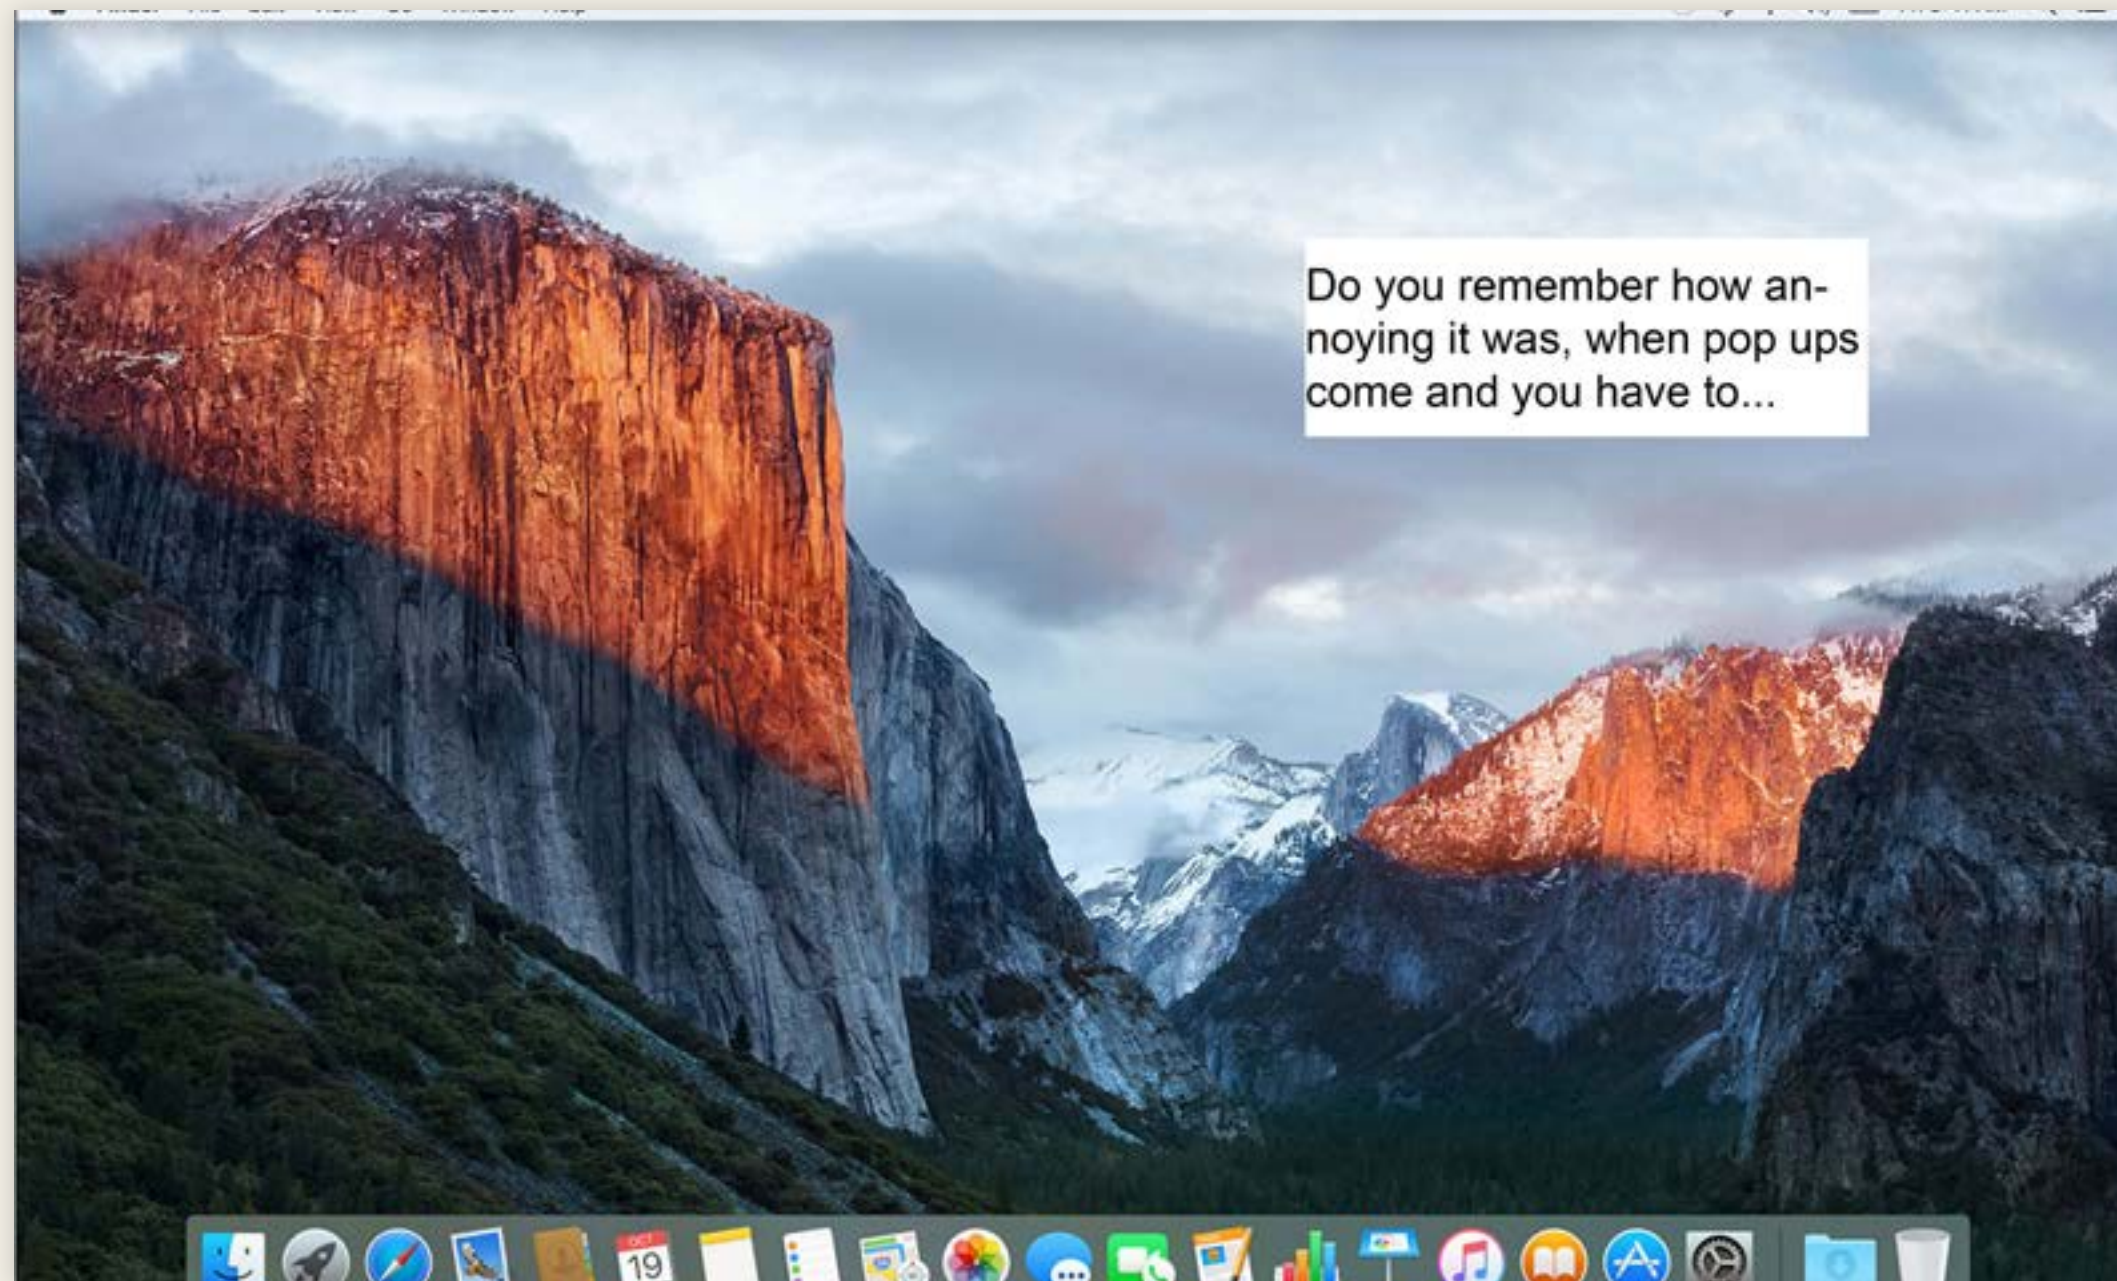

<http://mood.areaware.com/>

This website was showed the random popups that illustrate the story. What I want to link this random located pops, to tell my expression on internet

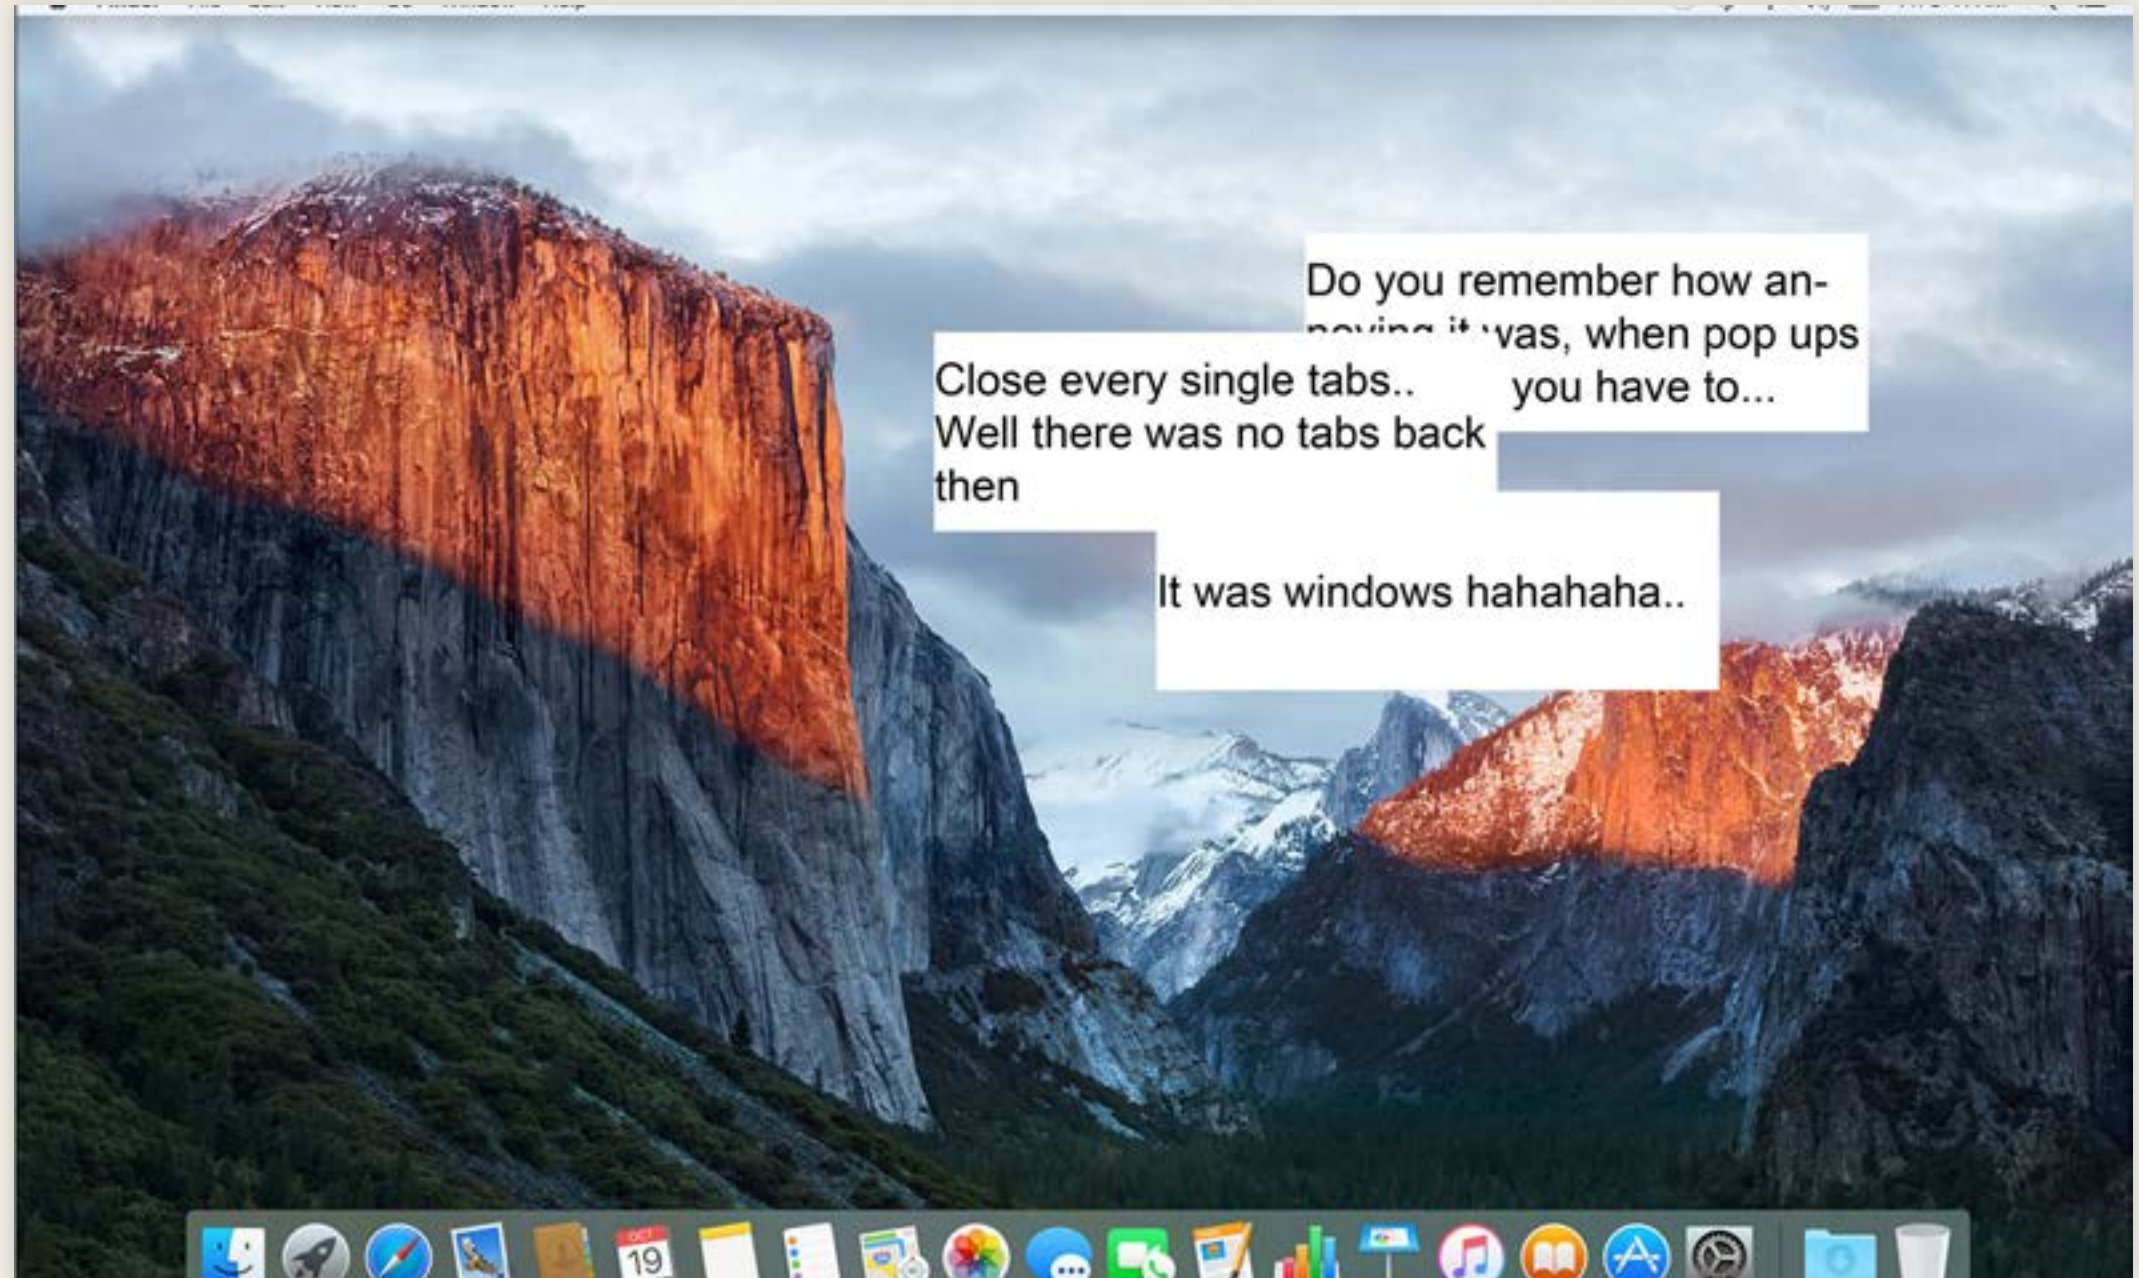

Homepage

Not sure about what kind of image that will be presenting on the back but the story will start with the pop ups gently coming out on the screen

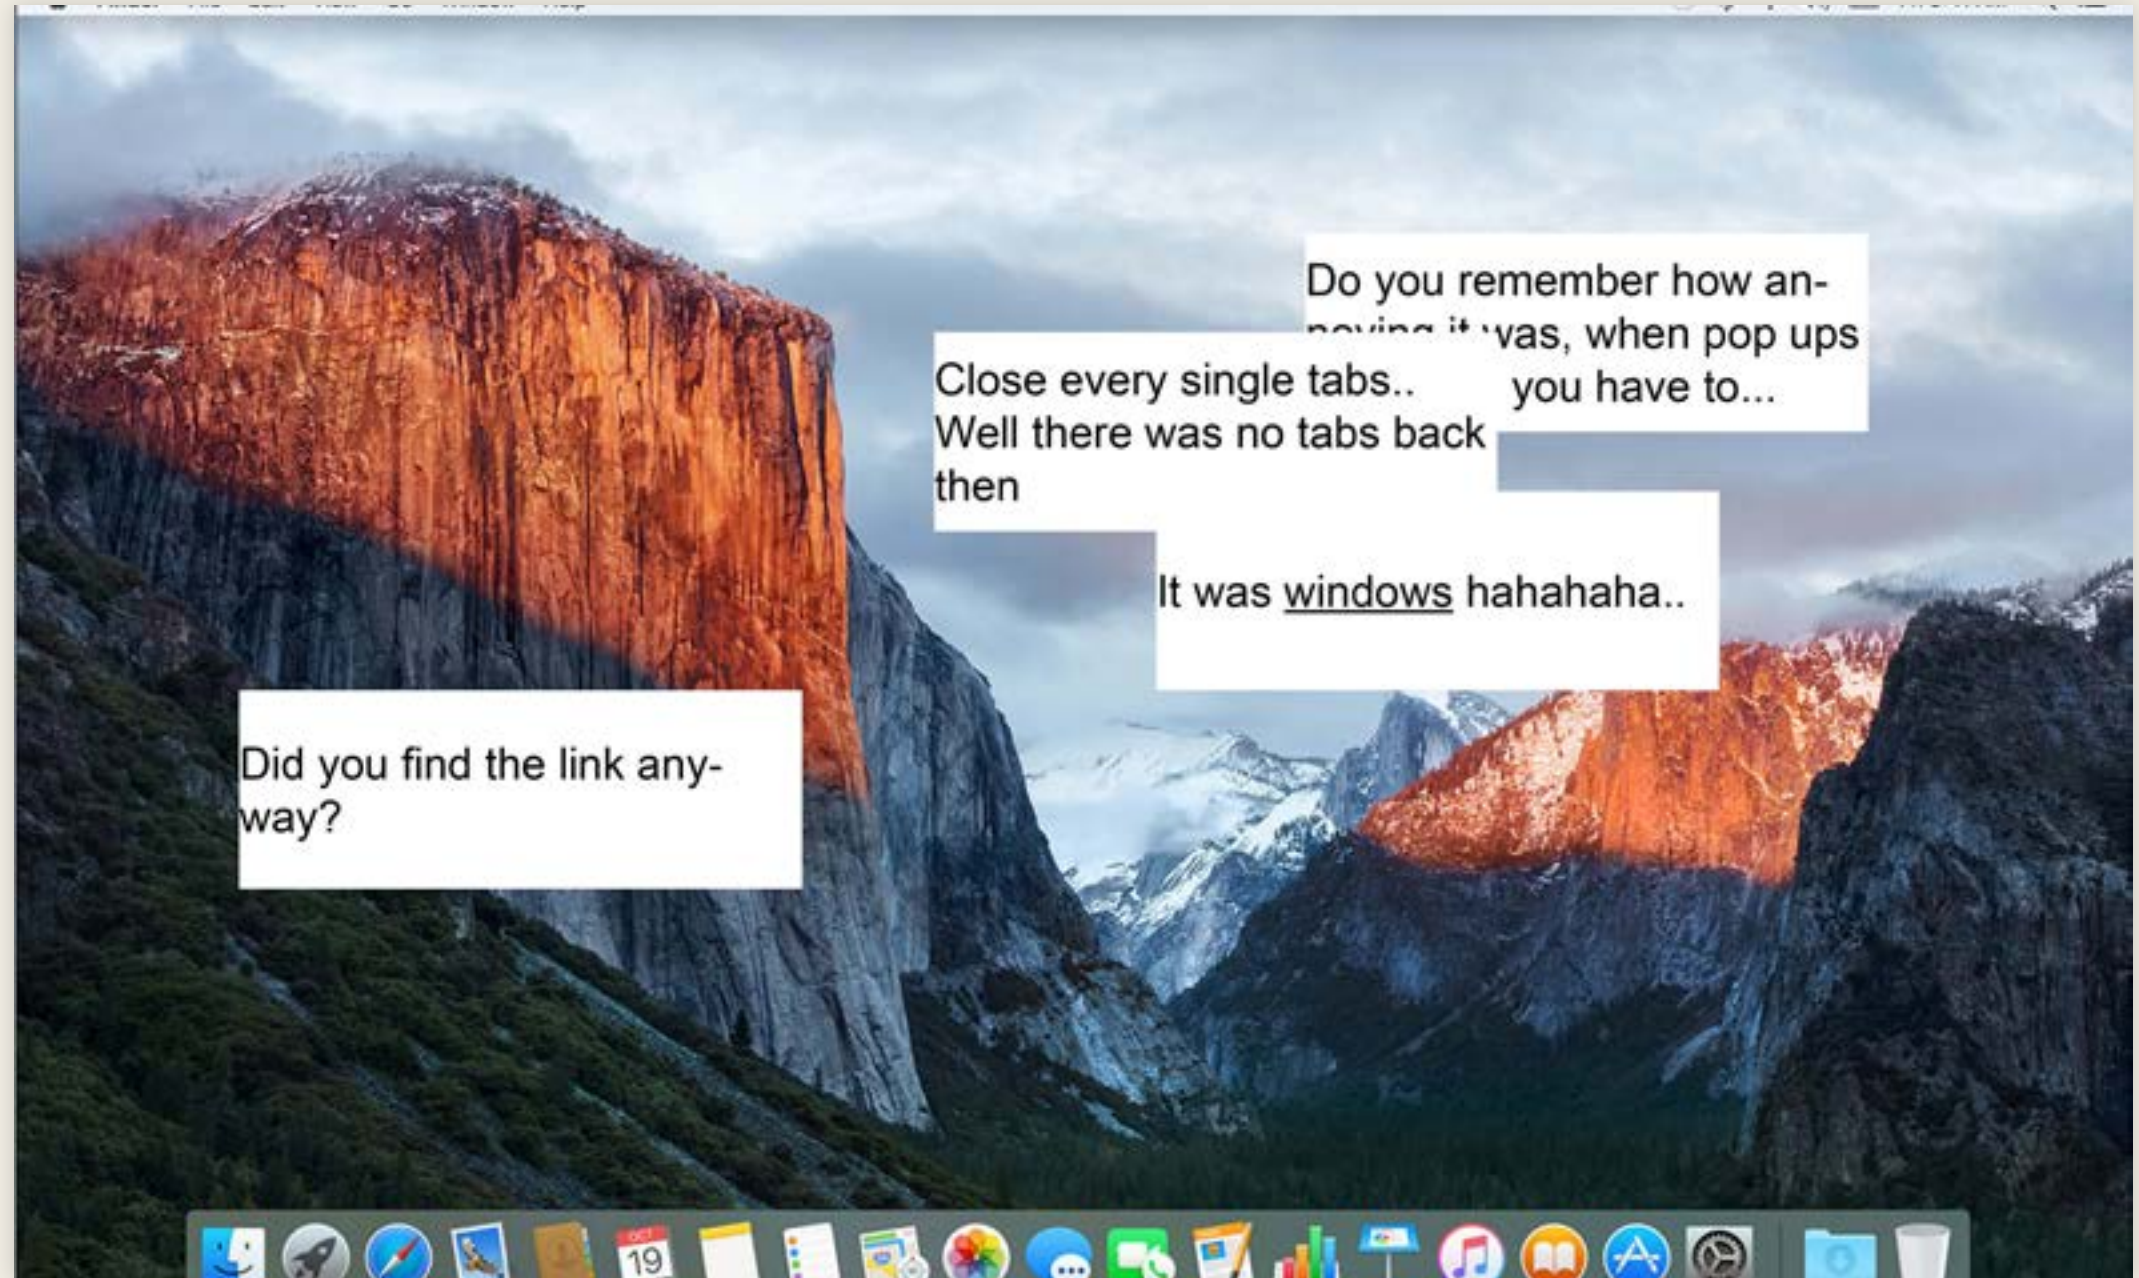

Timeline

As the time goes the fragment of story is going to show up

Link

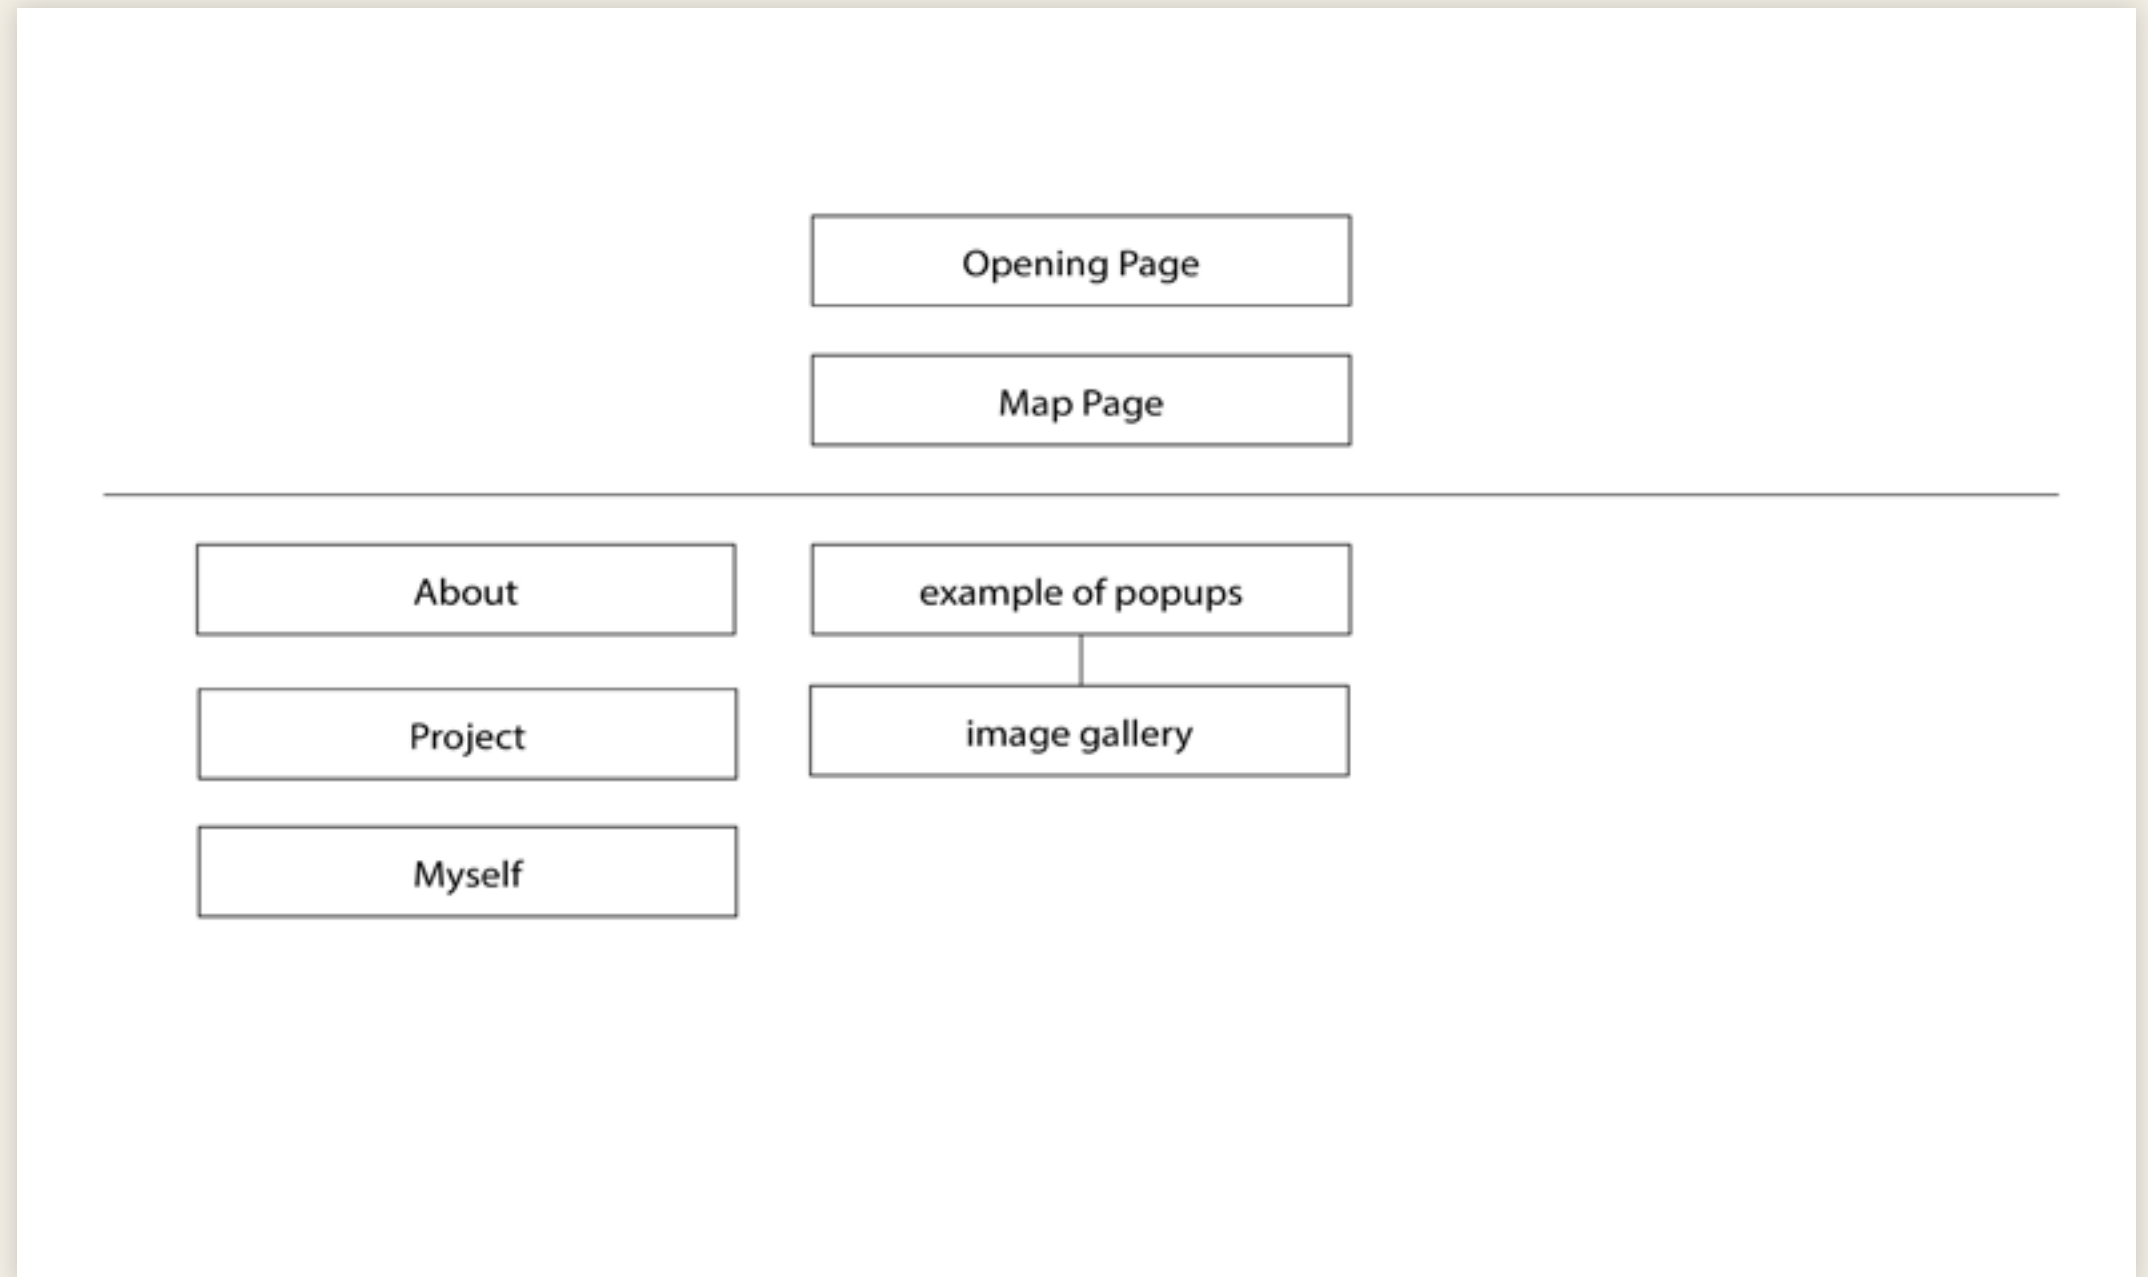

There will be links on some quotes which kind of representing the annoying part of closing the pop ups.

2nd Sketch

Wire frame

This sketch is more directly related to map. The location will be shown on the map and users are able to click on the spots.

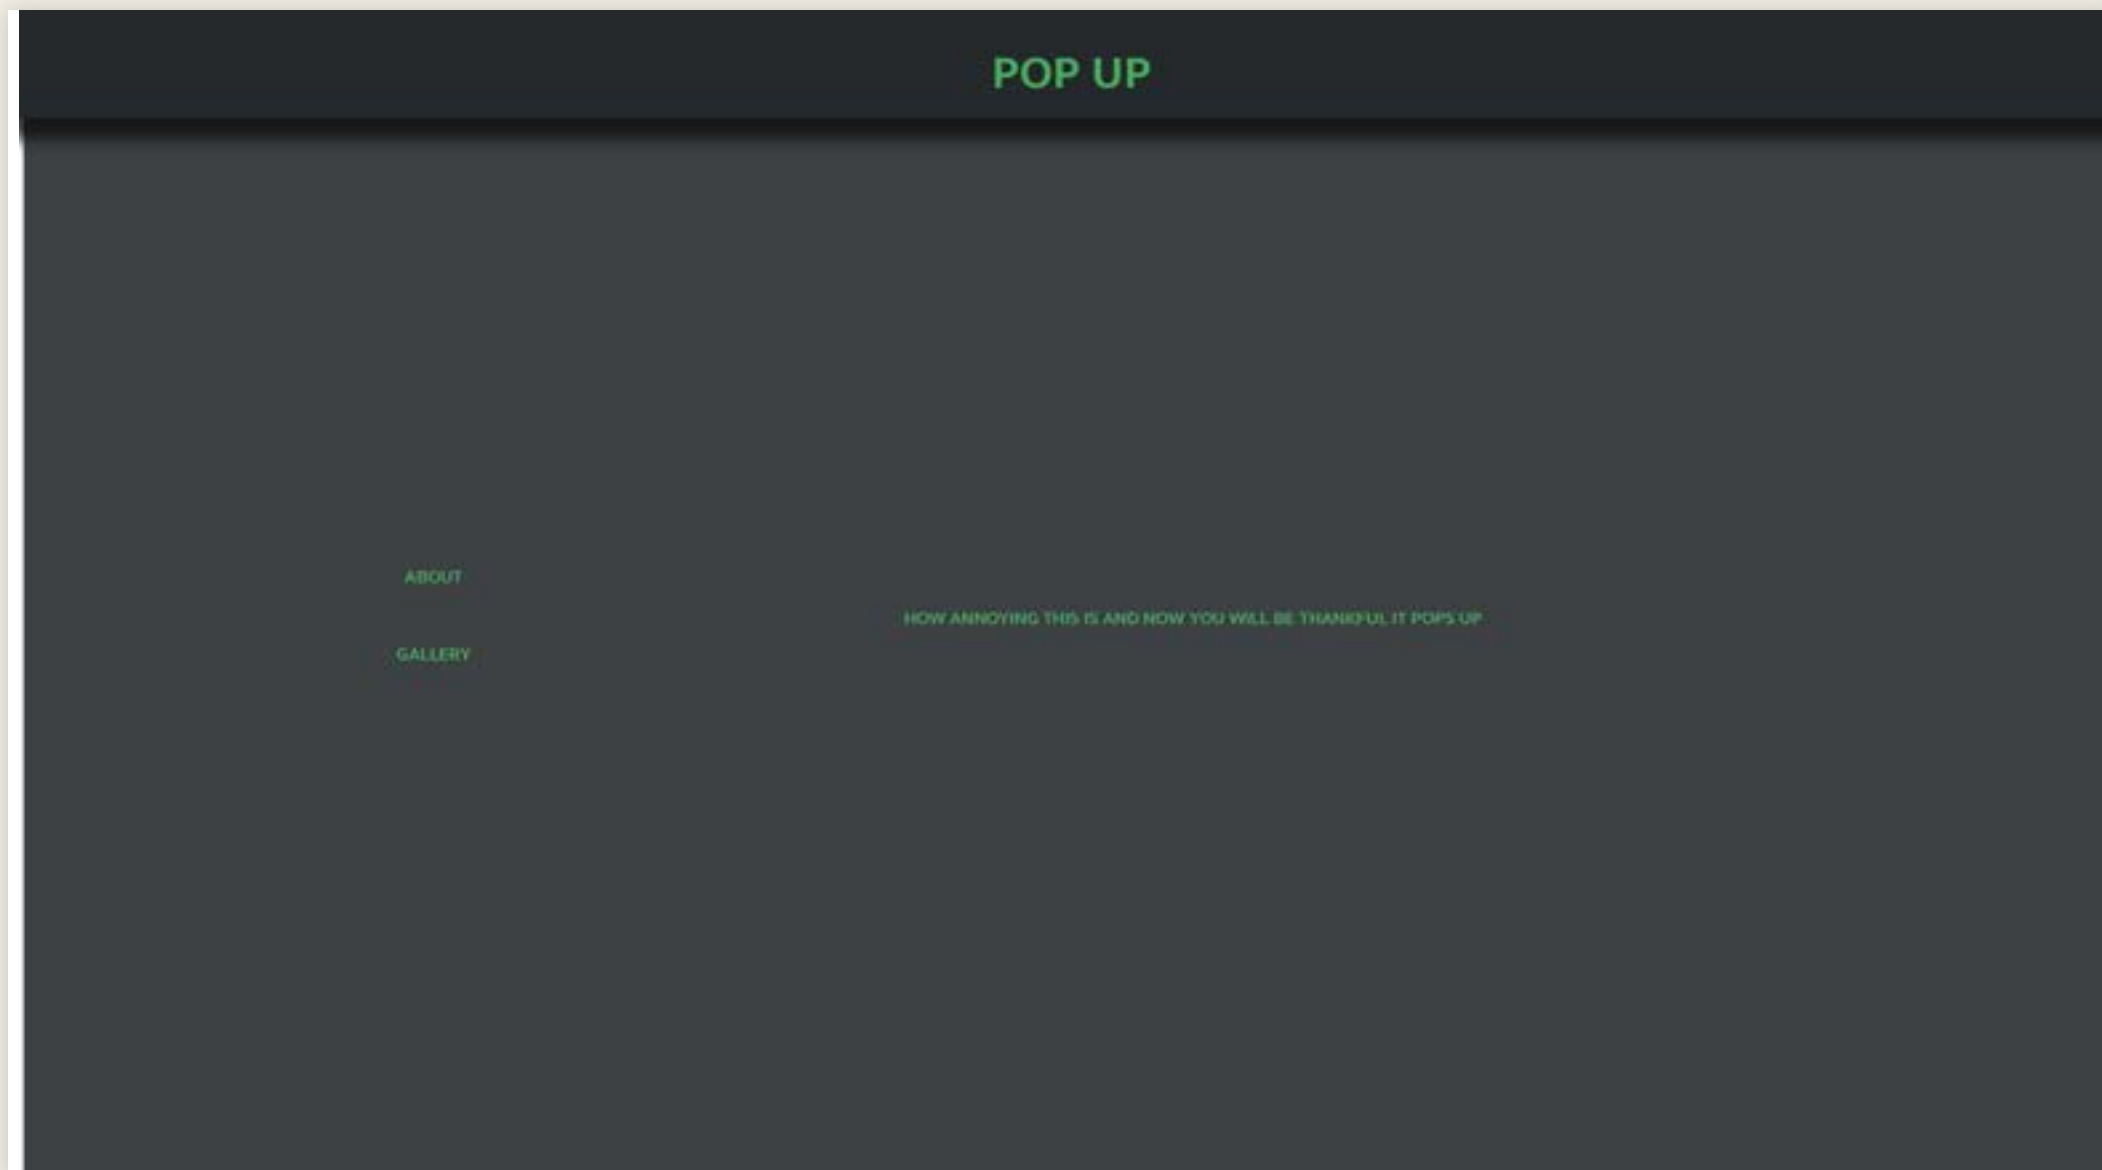

Homepage

There will be small texts that you can barely see.

Inspiration

<https://snazzymaps.com/>

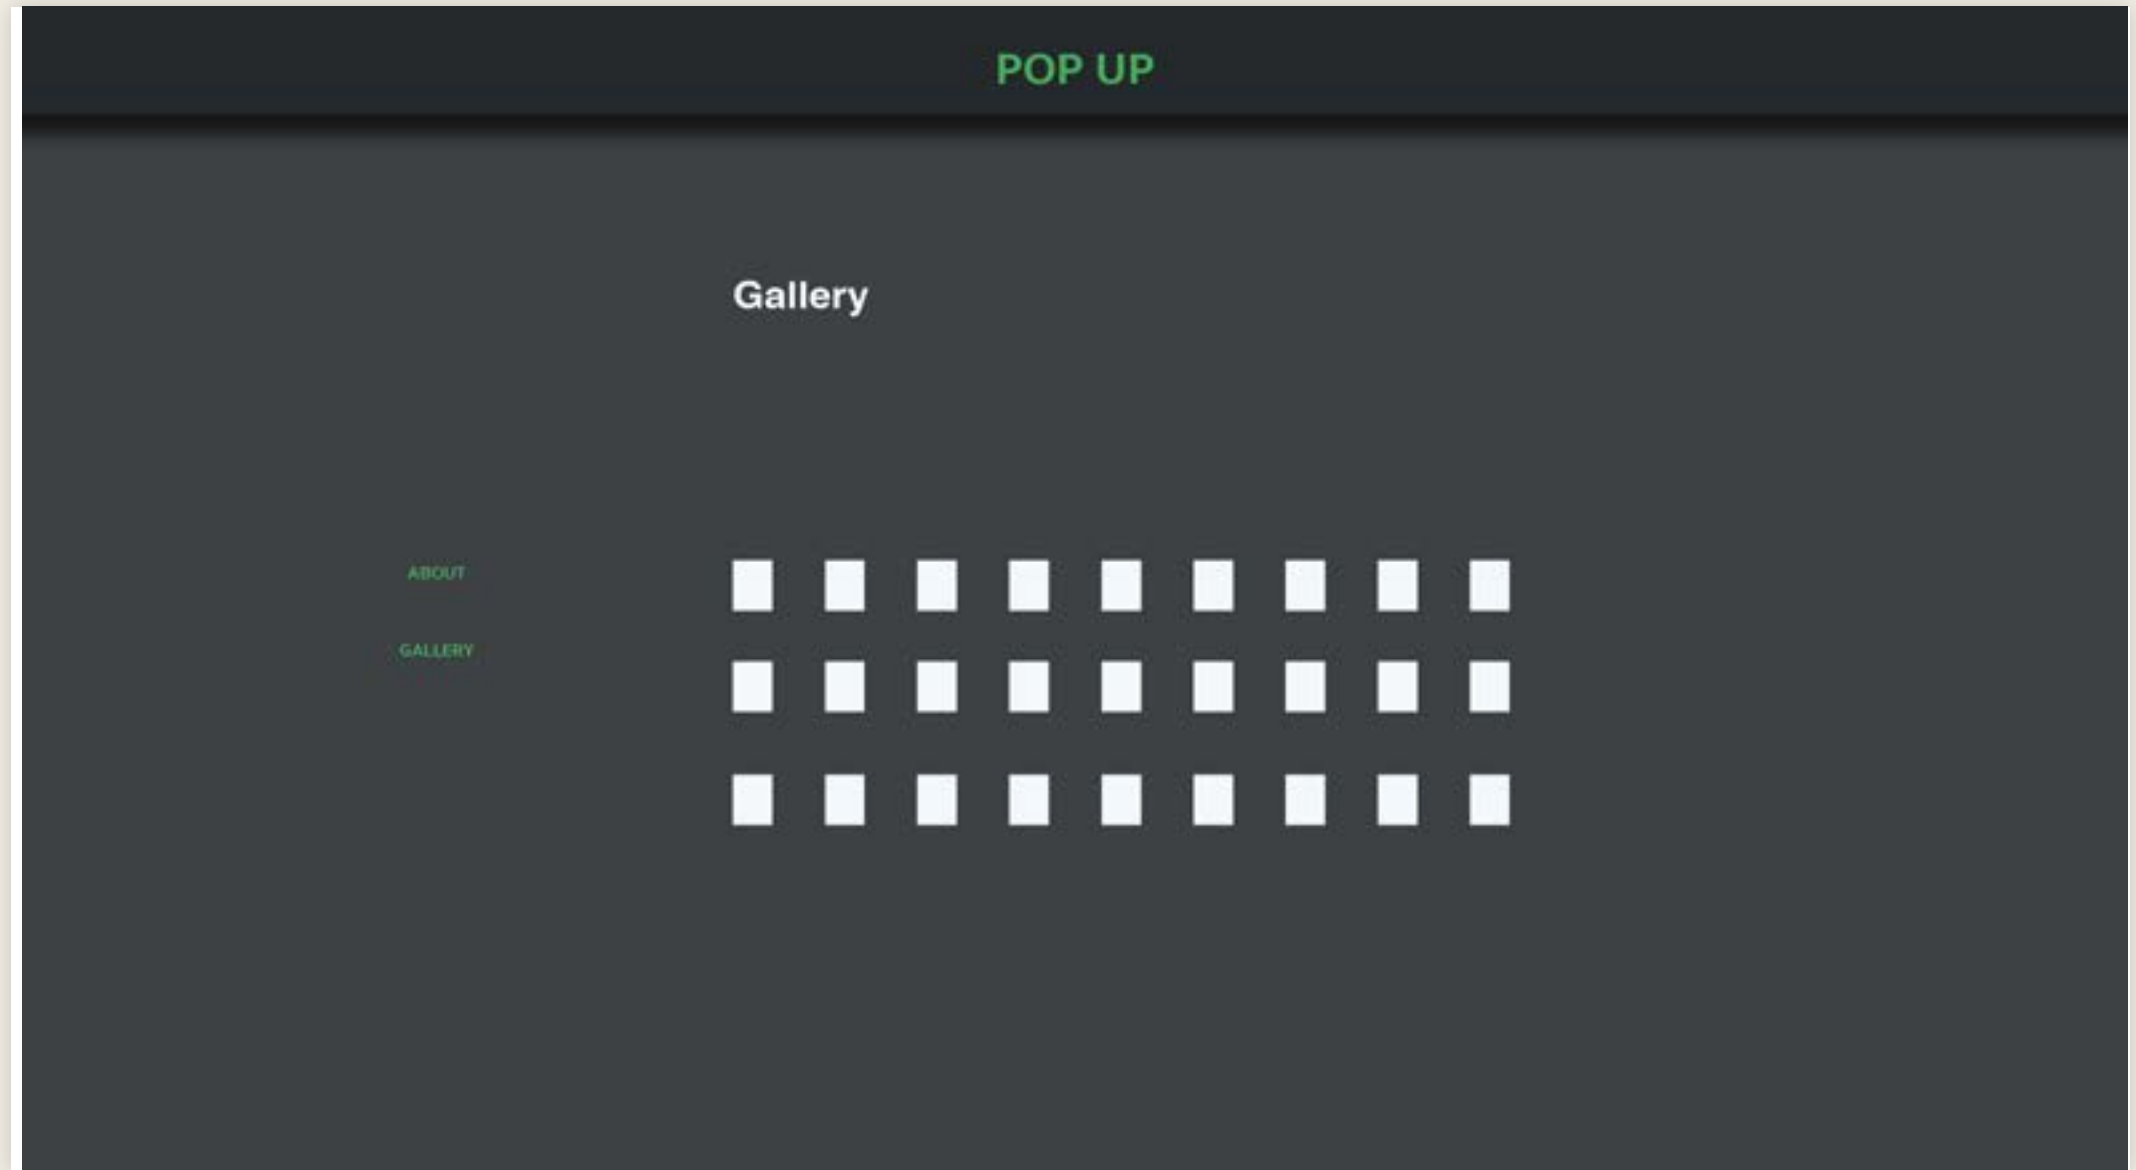

Menu hover

When you hover the words, the words will be became bigger. I tried to make that annoying pop ups to be appreciated to help users to recognize stuff what is happening on the screen

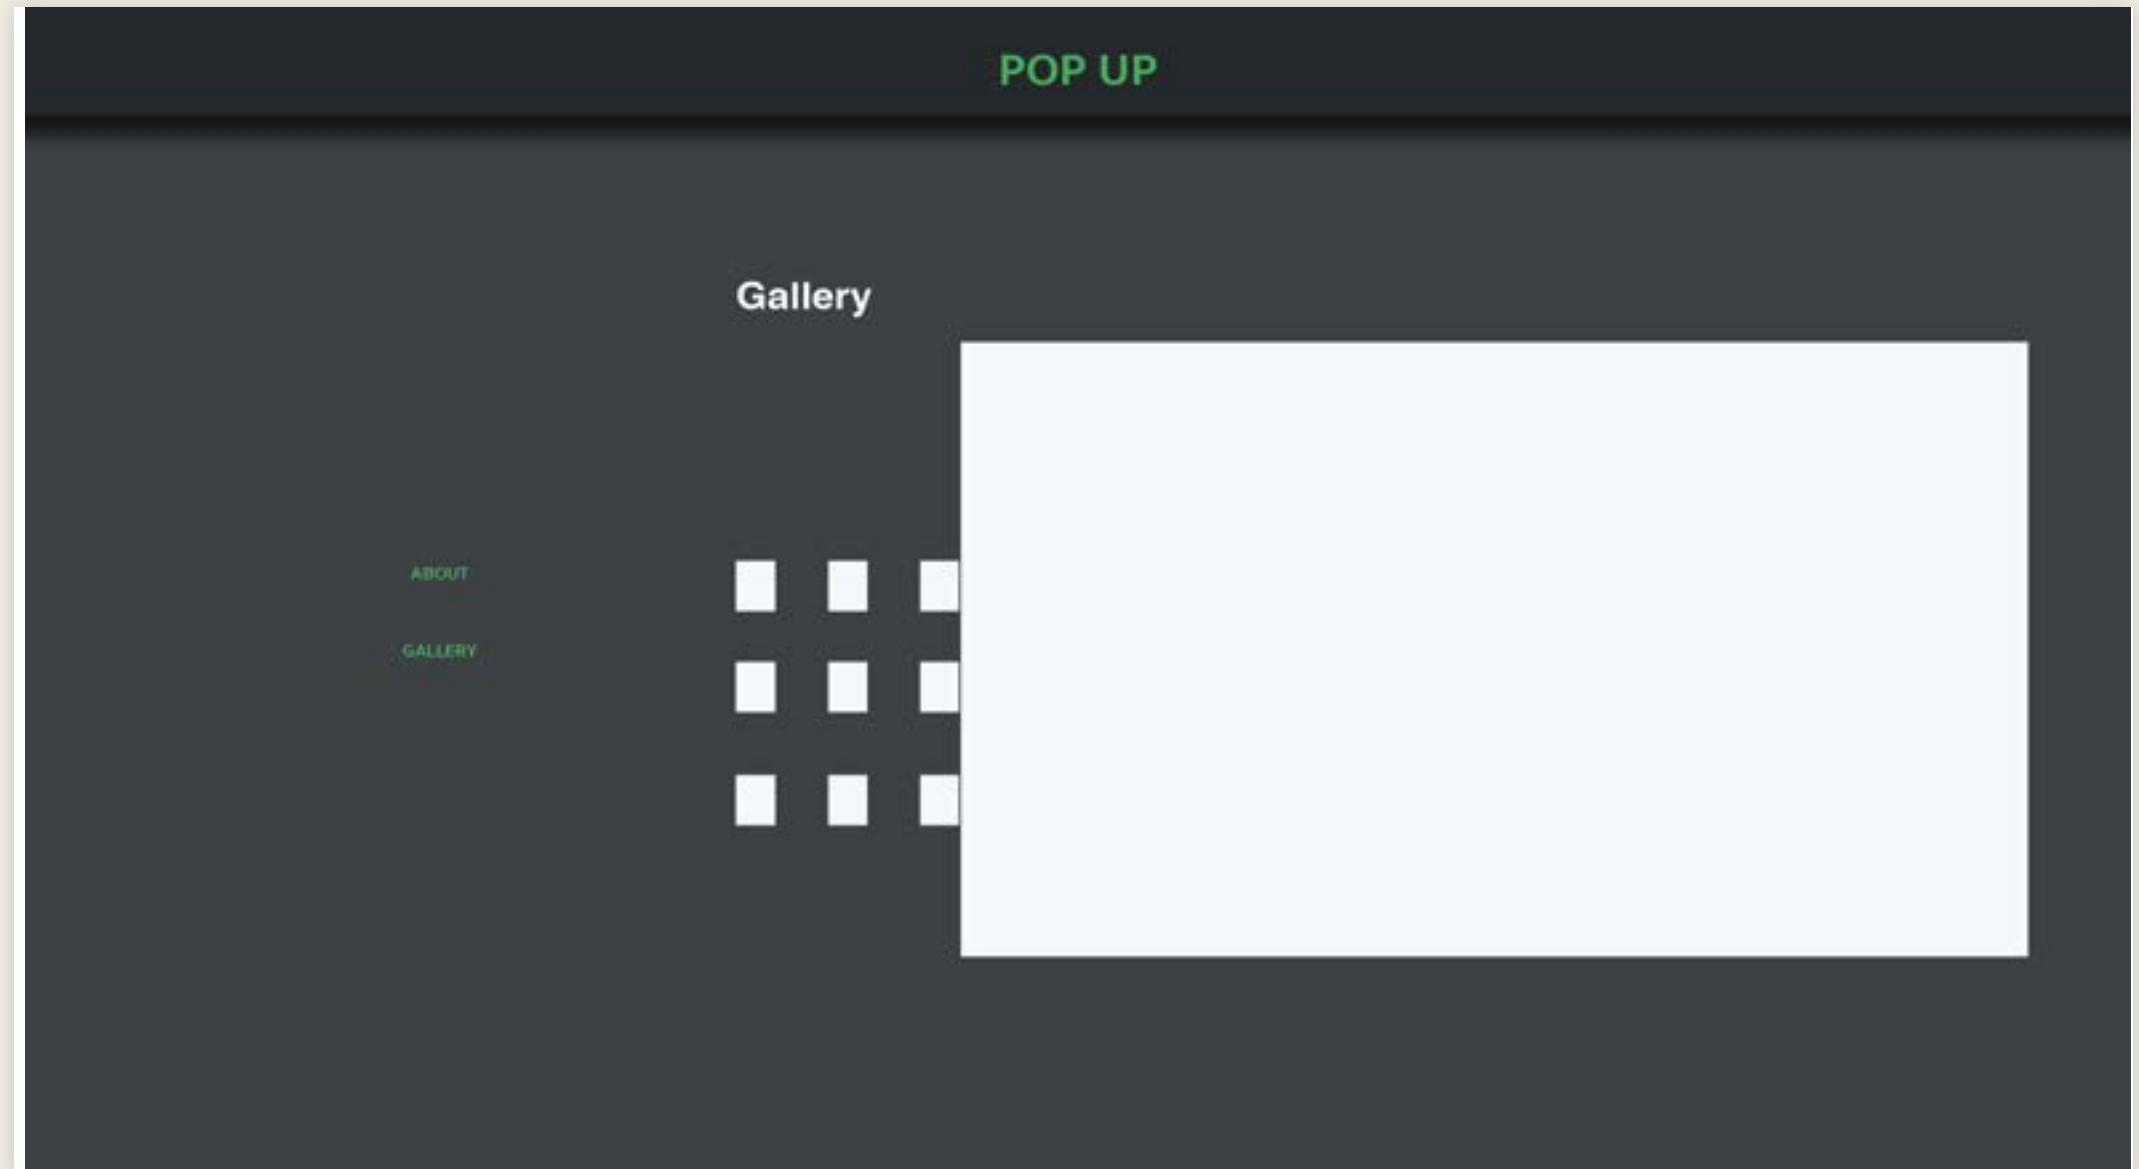

Gallery

This will be the gallery of the past popups that I got or people remembers like advertisement or flash installation or pornography.

Gallery Hover

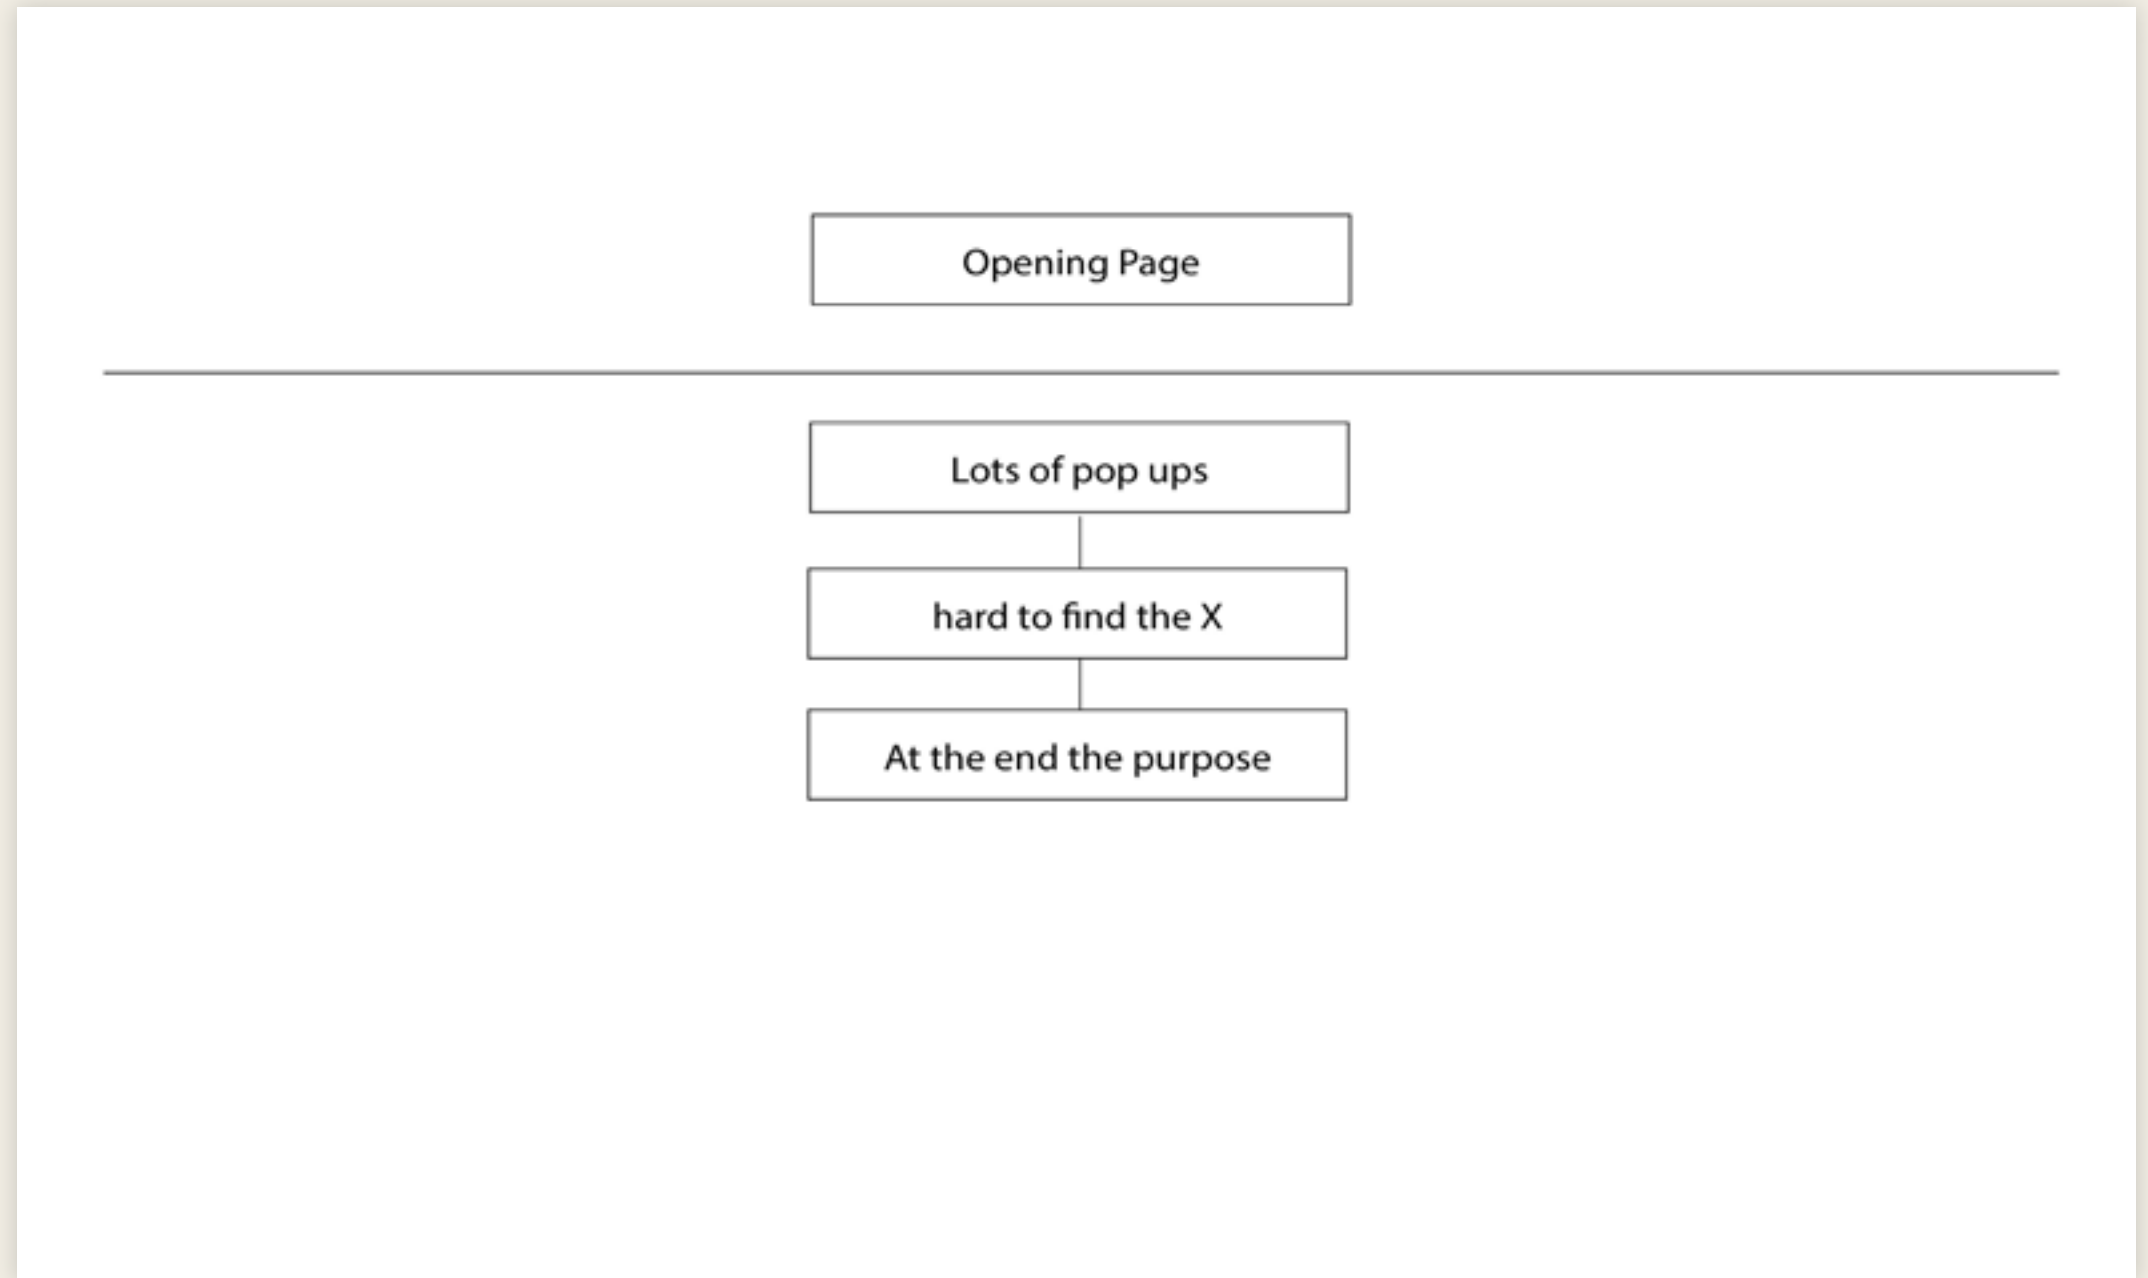

It will be similar as the homepage.

3rd Sketch

Wire frame

This idea is concentrating on how annoying to find the exit button on pop-ups back then.

Homepage

This pop ups will come up and it will be secretly hidden in each pop ups and if you failed to close it and click different thing is will say "Wrong!"

Im not sure if the scene will be like old days or restricted design by using Caslon and classy way
