

1st Sketch

wire frame

This project is focused on each journey that I took. So it will be layed out with each date that I walked. So each journey will be linked to each page of the crosswalk

Homepage

Simple list of dates to look like as cross walk. The color palette is inspired by the stop and walk sign of NYC.

Journey

If you go into each date pages, line and spots will be lined and you can scroll down the list.

The interface features a red header bar with navigation links 'HOME', 'ABOUT', and 'GALLERY' on the left, and the title 'CROSSING THE CITY' in large white letters on the right. Below the header, the word 'JOURNEY' is on the left and the date '20 FEB 2017' is centered above a vertical red timeline line. Five callout boxes, each with a white arrow pointing to a red circle on the timeline, list the following locations and times:

- E 9th & 5th Ave (1:15 PM)
- E 9th & Broadway (1:20 PM)
- E 9th & University pl (1:17 PM)
- E 9th & Lafayette st (1:22 PM)
- E 8th & Cooper Sq (1:23 PM)

Also able to see the whole route of the certain date.

3rd Sketch

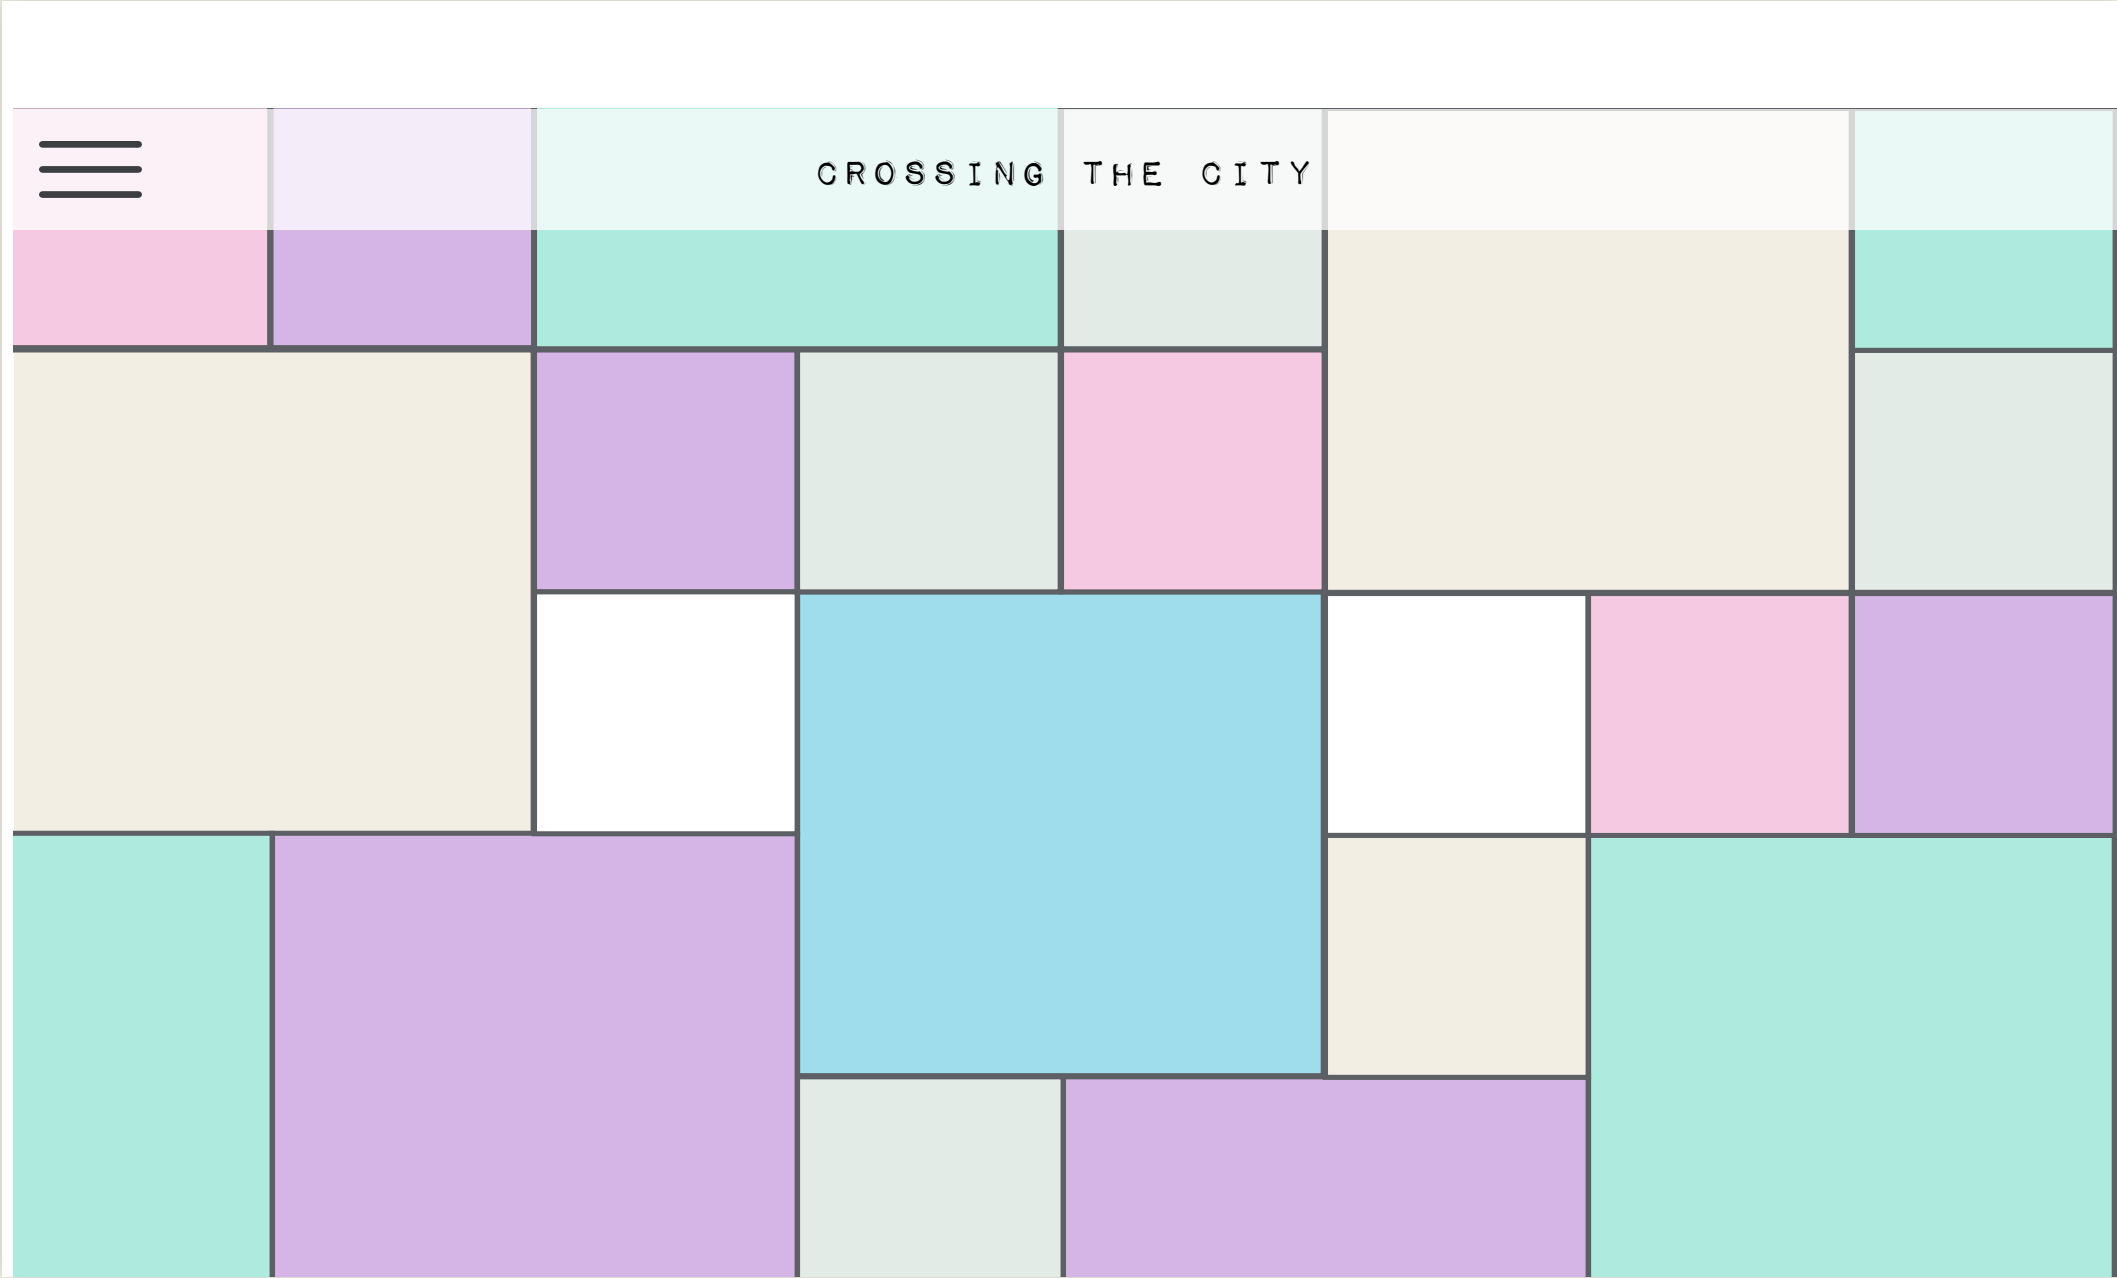

Wire frame

This is one that is focused on the multiple visit of the certain place and purpose of the journey.

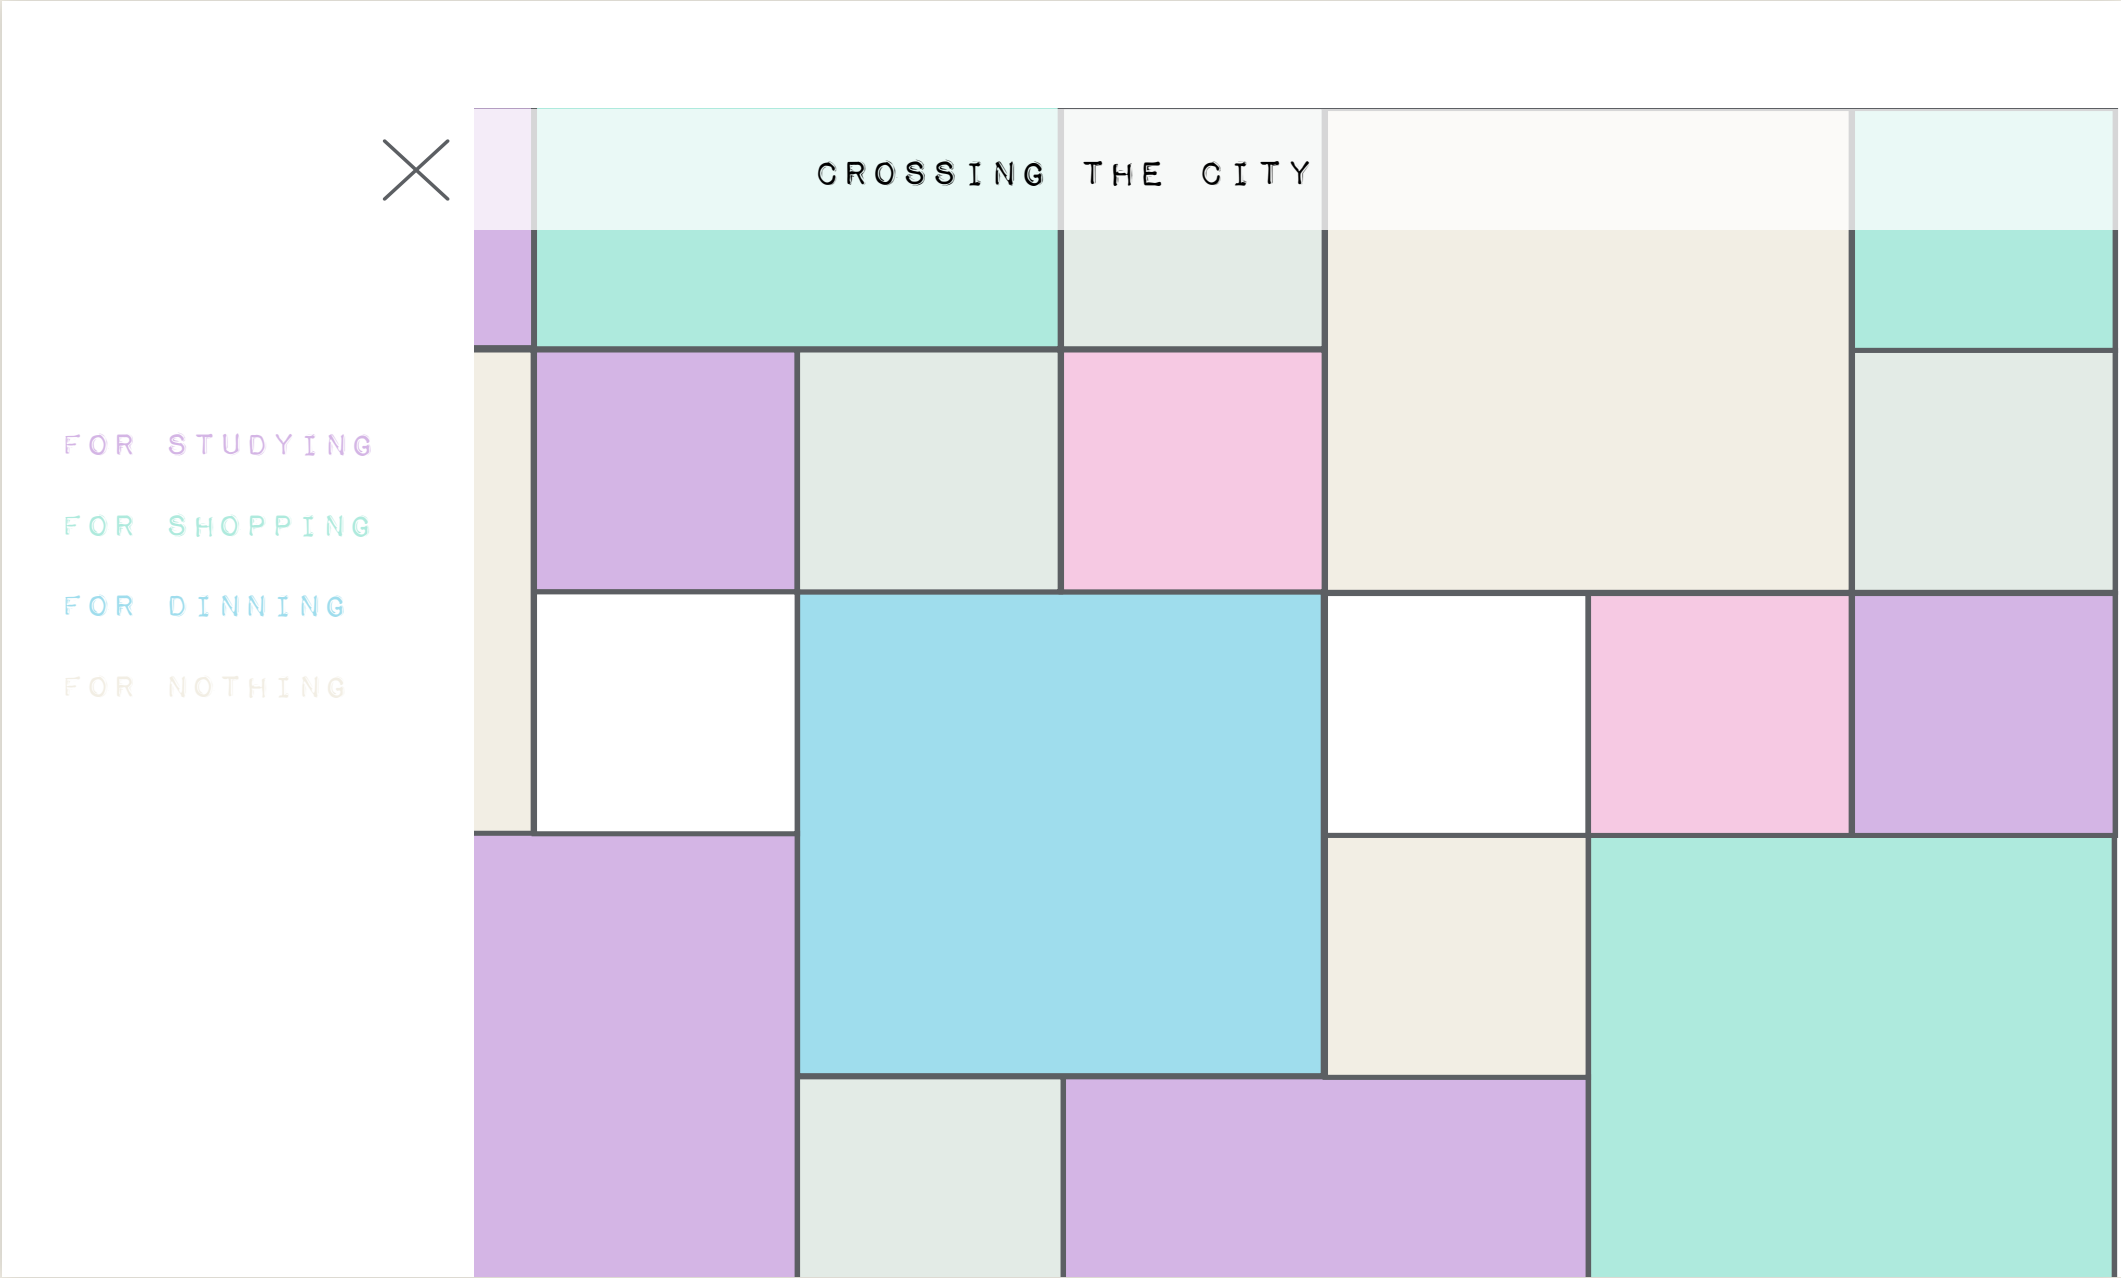

Homepage

The more I visited the place, the bigger the square will be. It will be layed out more abstractly but simplified version of map.

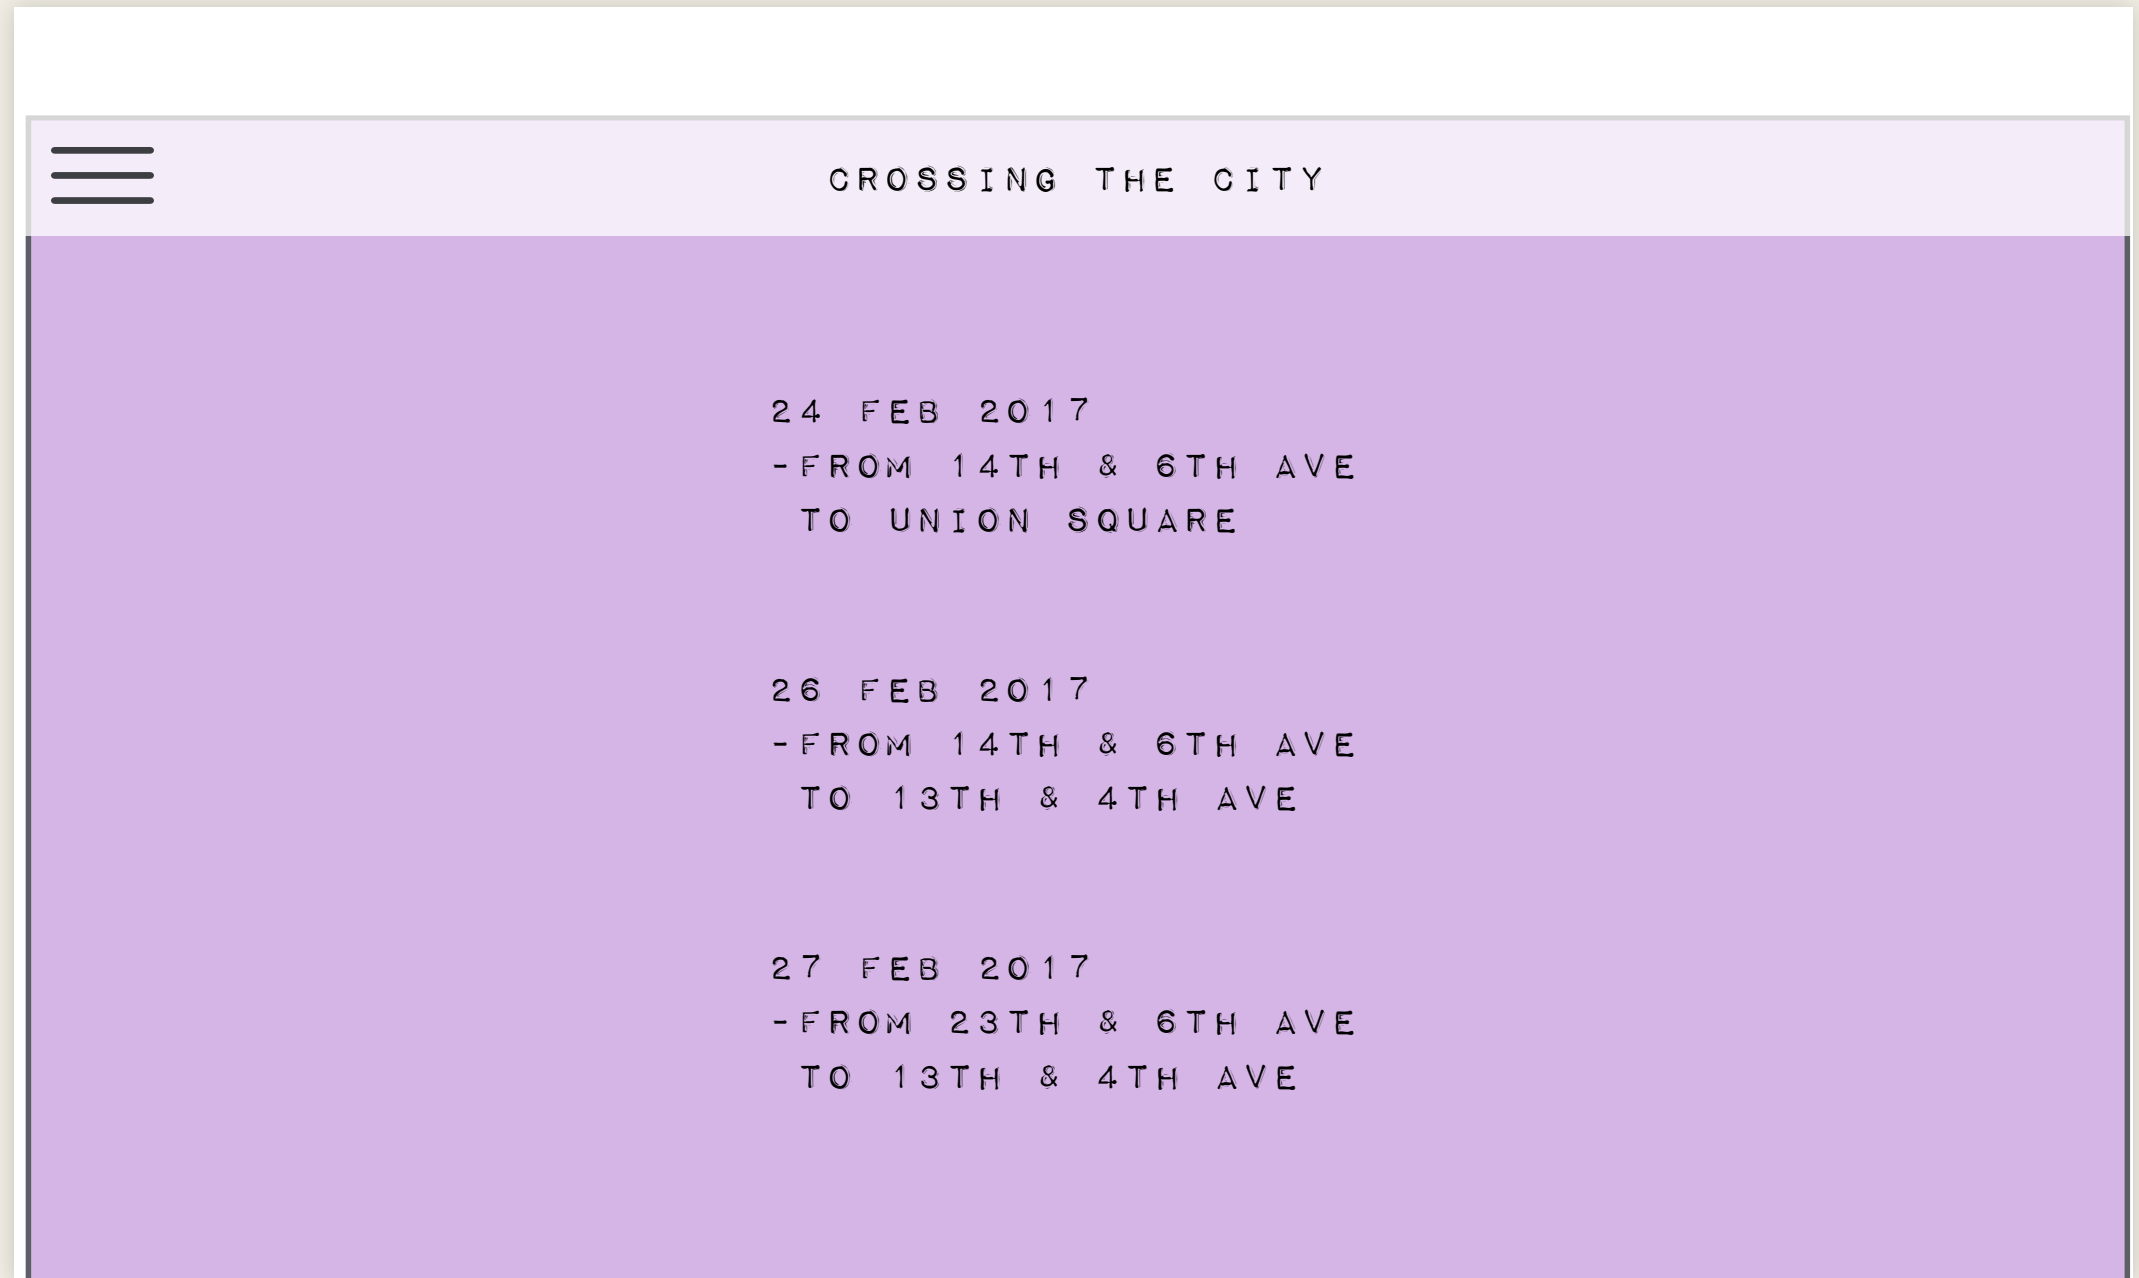

Menu click

Each box is color coded by the purpose of the journey

Spot library

When you press the menu "purpose" each journey will be come up.

Spot

Each spot will be connected with other time that I visited the place or next and previous spot.
